IMPORTANT TIPS & INFO:

---

What to expect:

Each child will have approximately 5-minutes in front of the camera and each child is guaranteed 2-5 images. This is completely dependent on the child, as are the facial expressions. My approach to School Photography is lifestyle. This means that I aim to capture your child's unique personality on camera. Some children are more comfortable than others in front of the camera—and that's ok. It's what makes them unique. So, while I will make some suggestions and guide them, ultimately what I aim to capture is whatever comes naturally to them. This is Lifestyle Photography :)

What will my holiday photos look like?

At least one photo will have Christmas tree limbs in the frame. This is an added feature and placement and type of tree is left to the artist's discretion. This is also what will make your images unique.

Some photos will have snow. IF—and only if—the child is interested in creating a scene where they will pretend to blow snow, you will see these in your gallery as well. Some children may not be interested in this. Again—that is ok. If you would like this image, talk to your child(ren) about this opportunity. If they give me the “ok”, you will find it in your gallery. If you do not see any with snow, your child was not interested. Please see sample photos in the [...] for a visual representation of what this may look like.

How to dress your child for picture day:

The holidays are quickly approaching. This school portrait session is scheduled and created with that in mind. Because I am aiming to capture a Christmas-y, wintery scene with a white backdrop (indoors), what your child wears for this session can greatly add to the magic/feel/ of this portrait session. November is tricky. We can have unusually warm days or cold days. That is unpredictable at this time. What I would highly suggest is that you dress your child for this session or have them bring simple accessories that will enhance the photo's appearance. For example: have your child wear a sweater, or bring in a non-descript coat, scarf, knitted cap and/or gloves. You can choose one or all—that is up to you. Coats, scarves, caps and gloves are easy to accessorize just for the photo session. Think simple, solid, muted colors that won't distract from the scene.

How do I get my photos?

Your digital photos will be uploaded to any online gallery where you can view, print and download your images. You will have the option to purchase a single digital image or all digital images. You may also choose from a variety of print options including print collections for additional savings. You will be emailed a link to your gallery. The gallery will be open for purchases for 2-weeks.

How much will I pay for this session?

The session is free. There is no sitting fee to participate. You only pay for the images you want—if you want any. An email address will be required to receive the link to your gallery so you can view your images and make purchases. See the School Photography Refined Christmas 2020 price guide for a list of all available products and pricing. (This guide should be distributed, posted and/or emailed to you by your child's school)
